HOT SPRINGS
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Hot Springs, Va., January 31.—Weather-like April for the last few days has given winter visitors a taste of spring in Virginia. The grass is green and the buds have burst in the brilliant sun, while the golf links and bridge paths have been turned into a veritable Eden. Visitors are occupying themselves chiefly with golf and horseback riding, and the local ones luxuriate in sunbaths in reclining chairs on the piazzas of the Homestead.

An early spring season is anticipated, and every day or two develops new plans for the entertainment of the spring crowds. Weekly golf tournaments, with cups for winners, will be introduced next month, and the Healing Springs Hotel will be opened and used as a tea, breakfast and supper resort. This hotel, built before the war, is three miles south of the Homestead, a convenient walk, or ride. A negro cook, famed for her delicious Southern dishes, will be in charge of the cuisine.

The early spring colony, will include Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rockefeller, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm Beach, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, Dunbar Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nott Dyer, Mrs. George A. Ellis, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pillsbury, Mrs. Charles C. Adsett, S. J. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiederman, Mrs. J. G. Norfleet, Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Coeburn, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thacker, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Haas.

Miss Gladys Ingalls, with a party of young people, will spend Easter at the Homestead.

W. Wallace Newcomb and Franklin Stetson, of New York, came over from White Sulphur Springs this week for a few days.
